

We at VFW Post 1152 receive lots of calls from charitable organizations wanting our money, ant that's fine because that's our duty. It's all these banks, credit card companies, long distance providers, and other companies that we do not have time for. We believe that tele-marketing (other than charitable) should be considered a crime punishable by serious jail time.